

EarlyOpenTrend

This strategy is based on daily highs and lows and the relationship to each other.

This strategy determines what kind of trend is presented now on the market (uptrend, downtrend or flat)

Depending on the trend the strategy sends a signal to buy or sell. The strategy opens corresponding positions with the preset Money Management protection and only in preset time. According to the Money Management the strategy can create and modify stop prices.

This strategy will be interesting for the long-term trading.